Art Technological Source Research Working Group
Triennial Program 2008-2011

- A newsletter will be produced at least once a year. Further information will be provided by additional communications as necessary.

- The Art Technological Source Research working group section of the ICOM-CC webpage will be updated and developed.

- The fourth Art Technological Source Research interim meeting will be held in autumn 2010 in Vienna. The postprints of this meeting will be published.

- Postprints of the third Art Technological Source Research interim meeting in Glasgow are due out in 2009.

- The group will support publications on art technological source research.

- Links will be created with other related working groups.

- A strategy to increase membership of the group through the dissemination of Art Technological Source Research activities will be established. Courses or other academic activities will be carried out in order to improve communication with other researchers, especially from Latin America, Australia, Asia, and Eastern Europe.

Coordinator: Stefanos Kroustallis