

Open discussion with participants

Moderator: Dr. Bill Wei, Cultural Heritage Agency of the Netherlands, Amsterdam

During the open discussion session, participants will be asked for their views on climate requirements for museum loans, and their motivation for these views. The objective is for the participants and ICOM-CC to better understand why other professionals think about the loan climate issue the way they do, but also why each individual participant thinks the way s/he does. The session is designed to be informative. The results will be distributed anonymously as a reference for the participants' future discussions and activities in this area and ICOM-CC might use the outcomes from the debate dialogue in the committee's further work on climate requirements for museum loans.
